

CELEBRATING
PLANNED
PARENTHOOD'S
RELENTLESS
COMMITMENT TO
THE ELIMINATION OF UNWANTED CHILDREN!

2022-2023

It's been nearly two years since the U.S. Supreme Court took away our federal right to dismember children in the womb—by overturning Roe v. Wade. Since then, more than 20 states have banned some or all forms of abortion. And yet, Planned Parenthood exterminated more babies in 2023 than in any year prior. Take that, SCOTUS!

Thank you to all the brave abortionists who are eliminating so many poor minority babies before they can grow up to become criminals, thugs, or useless consumers.

1. Planned Parenthood is the best in the business at convincing mothers to kill their offspring before birth, but some do invariably slip through the cracks. Thankfully, it's not enough to be statistically significant.

Total Assets Over Time

Planned Parenthood's stunning accumulation of wealth is truly inspiring—a testament to their remarkable business acumen. Who says you can't be a force for good while also stockpiling billions of dollars?

Planned Parenthood Abortions

As abortions steadily declined nationwide, Planned Parenthood managed to nearly double its own annual abortion total—while keeping adoption referrals<sup>1</sup> at infinitesimally small levels. In time, there's no telling how much of the unborn baby market Planned Parenthood will be able to capture and monetize.

Building a future in which all born people have the right to terminate their offspring will require a deep, strong foundation. We have to smash the culture of shame and stigma that surround abortion, recruit new partners to the movement, and remind the world that we are fighting for a future entirely free from unwanted babies.

The numbers in this publication come from the last 20 years of Planned Parenthood annual reports. Planned Abortion has no affiliation with Planned Parenthood. We simply want to highlight and celebrate their amazing work.
